Lose 3 try to halt bonds

A third attempt to halt the issue of $50,000 in bonds to repair and resurface Bay St. Louis streets failed this week when Circuit Judge Leslie B. Grant sustained the action of the Commission Council in issuing the bonds.

Petition for a temporary injunction to halt issuance of the bonds had been denied by Special Chancery Judge William P. Hewes last July. At that time Judge Hewes set hearing for Aug. 4 on a petition of objectors to the bonds for a permanent injunction against the bond issue.

The petition for a permanent injunction also was denied.

The objectors reportedly will appeal the Circuit Court's ruling to the Supreme Court.

Flossy Changes Mind, Bypasses Bay St. Louis

FLOSSY FLATTENS—A service garage at the Truck Town station on Hwy. 90, five miles west of Bay St. Louis, was flattened by Hurricane Flossy early Monday morning. Roy Gates, who leased the garage from Donald Stevens, shows the heavy cement blocks that caved in on the vehicles, while Tommy Spier examines the wreckage. The total loss was estimated to be close to $3,000.

Like a giant cat from the tropics, Hurricane Flossy stalked the Gulf Coast last weekend as residents, with the 1947 hurricane still fresh in their minds, braced their feet to withstand the onslaught.

But the capricious Flossy slapped Southern Louisiana a glancing blow and then, changing her course, ranced out into the Gulf, to bypass the Mississippi coast miles to the south. Then, her 100-miles-an-hour winds abating, Flossy veered sharply into the Florida coast and blew herself out as she moved inland.

But Hancock County residents were taking no chances with Flossy. As winds mounted and high tides began to boil over the seawall Sunday, local Red Cross and Civil Defense units, working in close cooperation, began speedy and methodical preparation for an emergency.

Red Cross shelters were set up at Bay High School, Hancock County Courthouse, Waveland School and Lakeshore School. In the meantime, Civil Defense crews, with headquarters at city hall, alerted crash-truck crews, kept track of the approaching storm and passed on last minute information to residents. Civil Defense personnel and local police toured the lowland areas near Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor with a sound truck, warning residents of danger from high water and directing evacuees to Red Cross shelters.

As the storm's intensity increased Sunday afternoon and night, more and more people took advantage of Red Cross shelters. With US 90 and Highway 11 closed to New Orleans, many summer residents of the Lakeshore - Clermont section moved into the shelters, with many joining them from the Cedar Point vicinity. The Red Cross reported the following numbers at the various shelters: Bay High, 67; Court House, 19; Lakeshore School, 92.

Although winds of better than 55 miles an hour battered the county, very little damage was done. The north wind pushed back the tide, and expected 3-7 foot tides did not materialize.

Flossy reached maximum intensity around 3 a.m. Monday morning, and as the wind abated, the rain slackened and the high tide flowed back to sea. Bay residents took down their shutters, breathed a sigh of relief and resumed "business as usual."

Deny Bond In Morris Mistrial; May Appeal to Higher Court

Dale Morris' plea for bond may be taken to the state's Supreme Court, it was indicated Thursday morning.

The 32-year-old rodeo rider from Billings, Mont., escaped Mississippi's lethal gas chamber for the second time in six months when another mistrial was declared by circuit judge Leslie B. Grant Saturday.

District Attorney Boyce Holleman, who each time declared Morris guilty of the Nov. 22 fatal shooting of Charles Flink in Waveland, said the cowboy will be tried for the third time this March.

Defense council said they will not, and had never thought of asking that the trial be moved to another county. Under state laws the defense has the privilege to do such.

The five-day trial ended Saturday when the 12-man jury reported they were deadlocked 9-3 for conviction Friday night, hours after being given the case, they reported a 7-5 stand for guilty. Last March they were deadlocked 11-1.

Judge Grant said under the laws of Mississippi he has the right to deny bond when in a capital case the "proof is evident or the presumption great." The judge denied bond Saturday and Morris was returned by Hancock deputy sheriffs to Harrison county jail in Gulfport.

Chief defense council Howard McDonnell said in Biloxi Thursday that plans for Morris' appeal for bond will not be made before discussing it with the defendant's people to ascertain whether or not they will be able to make bond.

McDonnell said the amount of bond is "largely in the discretion of the judge," and stated that in his opinion, "based on past experiences, that in cases on mistrial bond is usually allowed."

Judge Grant said defense council should appeal to another circuit court, Chancery Judge, or to the Mississippi's Supreme Court.

He has been returned to the county jail, where for ten months he has been kept. It is believed the state will again ask the death penalty this March.

From Thursday evening at 7:30 until high noon Friday Morris was on the witness stand and repeatedly said he did not kill Flink and had passed out in a drunken stupor the night of the murder.

Joseph Schettler, former New Orleans police chief, testified that Robert Larkey, who along with his wife was with Morris the Nov. 22 night, has said "Mr. Morris is guilty, then I'm guilty."

Defense council McDonnell told the jury Robert Larkey had "killed" Flink.

Holleman, fighting the much publicized case with circumstantial evidence, proved that Morris' station wagon was at the scene of the murder and the cowboy's 22-caliber pistol was the weapon used to slay the novelty shop owner.

The Larkeys said they had gotten out of the station wagon near the Flink home, on Hwy. 90, four miles west of Bay St. Louis, when Morris became "obnoxious" during the trip from Ocean Springs to New Orleans.

A jam-packed Hancock county court room of near 500 persons applauded and cheered when the mistrial was declared. Judge Grant rapped for order and told the crowd another outburst would mean a fine and a barment from the court room.

Rev. McNamee Dies Suddenly Tuesday Night

The Rev. Robert Lloyd McNamee, 35, minister of the Shiloh Memorial Baptist Church, Kiln, died early Tuesday night on arrival at King's Daughters Hospital following a heart attack.

He had been pastor of the Kiln church for the last year. The Rev. Mr. McNamee was born in Gulfport Nov. 6, 1920. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lois Meek McNamee; three sons, Robert L. Jr., Ronnie Gene, and Donald Lee McNamee; three brothers, Milton E. Jackson; Charles D. Memphis; and William F., Belmont, Calif.; and one sister, Mrs. E. R. Berry, Jackson.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McNamee, who were killed a number of years ago in a train-automobile accident.

The body was at Riemann's Chapel, Gulfport, until early yesterday afternoon when it was taken to the First Baptist Church, Gulfport, for funeral services at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. James A. Yarbrough, pastor of McDowell Road Baptist Church, Jackson, officiated. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

The Rev. Mr. McNamee, a graduate of William Carey College, Hattiesburg, following his ordination as a minister, had studied also at the New Orleans Baptist Seminary. He began his work at Lakeshore and Waveland Missions.

New license tags will go on sale October 1, Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said yesterday. Sheriff Ladner urged early purchase of tags to avoid a last minute rush by motorists trying to secure tags before the Oct. 31 deadline. A 25 per cent penalty is added after the deadline.

The sheriff said the price of all tags has been increased by the State Legislature.

To purchase tags motorists must have a 1955 personal tax receipt or a bill of sale showing purchase date of the vehicle. A city personal tax receipt also must be shown if purchaser is liable for municipal tax.

Sheriff Ladner also warned that all residents of Mississippi must purchase tags in the state in which they reside.

The sheriff's office will institute a new service this year to make purchase of tags easier for people living out of the state, Ladner said. The sheriff and a deputy will sell tags at various locations throughout the county, and a schedule of these sales will be released next week.

This year's tag have a green background and white numerals. Sheriff Ladner said his office had received tags in the following amounts: passenger cars, 8,250; truck, 930; school bus, 30; ambulance, 10; dray, 5; dealer, 55; private trailer, 100; house trailer, 100; and motorcycle, 10.

GOC To Have Class Meeting October 1st

There will be a class meeting of the Ground Observers Corps on Monday evening, October 1, at the REA Building at 8 p.m. Mrs. Ester Oschmann, Post Supervisor, announced today. The regular meeting was postponed due to the hurricane.

Mrs. Oschmann stated that Civil Defense and Ground Observers are an integral part of the overall program for the defense of the United States against enemy attack. The more effective our civil defense, the greater is our deterrent power of this country against the outbreak of war.

More volunteers are needed and Mrs. Oschmann urges that all persons with certificates and any interested persons attend. All organizations are asked to have Civil Defense Chairmen attend these classes.

Highest Enrollment In History Says Ingram

Bay St. Louis public schools have nearly completed their first month, operating with the largest enrollment in the history of public schools in Bay St. Louis, superintendent S. J. Ingram revealed last week.

Total enrollment includes 556 white and 353 colored students. Bay St. Louis high school building is undergoing complete renovation and modernization, and a new building for home-making and shop at Valena C. Jones colored school, is slated to be started immediately.

Superintendent Ingram and Charles L. Proffer, architect, went before the State Educational Finance Commission Sept. 17 to secure approval of the contract on the Valena C. Jones building.

The contract was awarded to a local contractor, Roger Heitzmann.

Cost of the renovation of Bay High and construction of the new building at Valena C. Jones will total $186,789, in State Funds secured from the State Finance Commission under the act of Legislature of 1953, which provided for construction of school buildings at State expense.

The fund is allocated on a basis of $12 per pupil with ADA for white, and $15 for colored pupils.

The fund was made available as soon as Hancock County was re-constituted, setting up a Municipal District of Bay St. Louis and a Hancock County unit.

"This will give the High School building some much needed repairs and improvement," professor Ingram declared.

The high school has started courses in driver education for students who are old enough to secure a drivers license. The course is provided jointly by the American Automobile Association and the local school, and Gulf Chevrolet Co. provides the automobile for this service. The school is able to provide training for 12 pupils each semester.

"The board of trustees of the Bay St. Louis School District is looking forward to another improvement of the public school system in the near future," Superintendent Ingram said. "That is, the construction of additional classrooms for an elementary center. This will be separate and apart from the present plants in order to avoid any further congestion on the present school site. Sufficient funds will be available for this project from the same source that we have secured the other funds, as soon as a suitable location has been secured.

Fall Army Worms

Be on the watch for fall army worms. They can strip your field of young oats practically overnight.

Be ready to poison immediately when the worms are noticed. When you first notice skeletoning in your grasses or small grains, it is time to poison.

For control use DDT, toxaphene or dieldrin. Methoxychlor also may be used. Either dust or sprays will give control. For spraying, mix 1 1/2 quarts of a 6-pound per gallon toxaphene emulsion, or 1 gallon of 2-pound DDT suspension or 1 1/2 pound dieldrin emulsion to the amount of water the sprayer applies per acre.

If dust is used, use 20 percent toxaphene, 10 percent DDT or 1 percent dieldrin. Apply 10 to 15 pounds per acre.

CAUTION: These materials are toxic to dairy animals or animals being fattened for slaughter should not be grazed with in 30 days of the last application.

For fattening and livestock producers fattening animals for slaughter use methoxychlor at the rate of 1 pound to the acre. Animals must be kept off for 7 days after last application of methoxychlor.

Dates
Mississippi Assured Breeders Club sale at Mississippi State College, an Animal Husbandry Service Building, Monday, Sept. 24th, beginning at 1 p.m. Sweet potato field day at Mississippi State College, Tuesday, Sept. 25.

Sod Seeding
Some advantages of using sod seeders are: If sod is cut about half as much as plowing up and starting from scratch.
It is a top-notch tool for soil and water conservation on sloping land if the sod seeder is run on the contour, moisture will hold better and soil won't wash so badly.

Old worn-out pastures can be replanted without losing what sod is left. Band seedling gives better stands and growth than broadcasting seed, especially where seed is broadcast on top of the ground.

Plantings can be made on cultivated land without breaking the land and losing moisture.
Seed and fertilizer can be put out at the same time, thus saving time and expense. The good sod is not destroyed. After a rain, you can hardly tell the soil seeder went through the sod.

Stands of winter peas can be had the first year using half the regular seeding rates in heavy Bermuda and Johnson grass sods.

Hog Management
Watch out for internal parasites on hogs. Research indicates that a hog moderately infested with worms may eat 3-10's of a pound more feed for a pound of weight gain than a hog that is free from worms.

Sanitation, including the use of clean temporary pastures, ringing noses to prevent rooting, keeping hogs out of low, wet areas will help to prevent worm infestation.

Treatments for worms include use of piperazines—non-toxic and can be given in feed or water; cadmium oxide—low toxicity when used at recommended dosages; sodium fluo-ride—very toxic, but also very effective.

All of these worms remedies are effective. Users are advised to follow all directions for use carefully.

Hurricane Flossy has caused many Mississippi Gulf Coast football teams to miss valuable practice sessions, with a six-game program facing the high schools this weekend.

Four contests are slated for Friday night. Bay St. Louis' Tigers, sporting a 2-0 record, will visit Bill Shepard's Lumberton Panthers in a DeSoto conference game. The twice-downed d'Iberville Warriors will be guests of the Long Beach Bearcats in a Gulf Coast loop encounter. Ocean Springs' Greyhounds will host Theodore, Ala., and the Rocks of St. Stanislaus will entertain Moss Point of the Big Eight at Bay St. Louis.

Notre Dame of Biloxi will journey to Louisiana for a Sunday afternoon battle with St. Bernard.

Pass Christian, Vancleave, Perkinston and Our Lady of Victories have open dates.

SAVES STEPS
COMING and GOING
Mississippians make nearly 2 million telephone calls daily... to the grocery or drug store, or the cleaners; to customers in other cities or to nearby friends and relatives... How many millions of steps do you suppose this saves them every day?
Just recall the telephone calls you made today... and don't forget the calls you've received! How much more it would have cost you and your friends and neighbors to travel that far without your telephone... Consider too, how little you actually pay for this fast, dependable service which is growing in usefulness daily as more and more people in your community receive telephones, so you can call them and they can call you.
Is there any wonder so many agree telephone service is worth more than it costs?

MY CATTLE IN CIVIL DEFENSE?

THAT'S NOT AN ASSURANCE IDEA AT ALL!

Food production is as important as factory production in winning a war. If our enemy were to launch biological warfare against this country they might attempt to neutralize our farm-lands as well as our cities.

Your Civil Defense Director urges you to take part in your community's Civil Defense program by taking the following everyday precautions against biological warfare:

1. Take the normal measures of sanitation to minimize the spread of disease.
2. Check your animals regularly.
3. Isolate all sick or newly acquired stock for at least three weeks, or long enough to be sure they are not disease carriers.
4. Report immediately any increase in native diseases and the appearance of unusual diseases in animals to your veterinarian or county agent, or any damage to your crops from an unfamiliar disease or insect.
5. Follow approved vaccination practices.
6. Carefully dispose of wastes and discharges of sick animals.
7. Cooperate with your plant disease control officials.
8. Do not send livestock to areas of disease.

For more information, contact your local Civil Defense Director.

A FINE FINE

One of the best gimmicks we have heard of yet to control teenage and adult-traffic violations is now being used with considerable success in several Alabama towns.

Traffic laws are strictly enforced, and violators are handed out stiff fines. They are then given the option of paying the fine or attending a lecture of safety, and are given credit of $10 for each one hour lecture attended. If the guilty person misses a lecture, the option is terminated and the fine must be paid.

The lectures are held one night a week, and we understand that speakers are furnished by the Highway Patrol.

Usually a relatively mild sentence is handed out for a first offense, with much stiffer fines handed out for a second or third offense—usually at least $250 for a third offense. After either paying a $250 fine or attending 25 one-hour lectures, most motorists begin to be a little more careful of their driving habits, it is claimed.

Advice to public speakers: To be seen, stand up; to be heard, speak up; to be appreciated, shut up.

Any housewife will tell you the most difficult meal for her to get is breakfast in bed.

CAN'T PLEASE 'EM ALL

Just can't please everybody, seems like. After our editorial "The Salesman" in the Sept. 14 issue, a lady subscriber called up to cancel her subscription. She gave us quite a tongue-lashing, saying the editorial was the worst thing she had ever seen—it was irreverent, a sacrilege, and we gathered the impression we were a pretty low character in general.

A little later a priest came in and commended us highly on the same editorial. He said it was one of the finest things he had ever seen, and why didn't we do it more often.

Oh well.

Most of the stumbling blocks people complain about are under their hats.

A Bay St. Louis four-year-old watching television suddenly turned the set off. When asked why, he explained:

"I have to go to the bathroom and I don't want to miss anything."

24 Hour Service

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD for 1957!

Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans. The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news... a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock. This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices. This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar. When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because... This is Where Tomorrow Starts... with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Kind of Ford is the fullest, most eloquent expression of Ford's special personality—the youthful grace, the whiplash action—and the reputation for durability known wherever there's a road. To all this we have added true elegance—a kind of elegance never before seen in the low-price field. To make a car truly elegant, you must start deep-down inside.

The New Inner Ford

The Inner Ford—the car you cannot see—is a very remarkable structure. Its frame is actually a cradle. Side members extend almost the full body width; they serve not only as supporting members but as concealed side bumpers of immense strength.

The New Ford Body

The new Ford body is a triumph of engineering in steel. The doors close with the solid finality of a bank vault. Even the door-lock button has been moved up front—easier for you to reach, but out of the children's reach. All these features were engineered to give you a solid new kind of comfort.

The New Ford Ride

The New Kind of Ford sits six people as no other low-priced car has ever sat them.

riors and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field.

The New Ford Look

That low, low cradle-span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from road to roof. The Custom is just over four feet nine inches.

The new Ford is not only low—but long. Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high-priced in every way except price.

The New Ford Performance

You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model. There's a moderate—and really moderate—extra charge for this engine of 312 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144-hp Mileage Maker Six. Whether you choose Six or V-8, the going is great!

Here is where your own tomorrow starts

It starts at your Ford Dealer's showroom!

The cars will be there on Wednesday, October 3.

These are the best Fords of our lives.

They are the first symbols out of Detroit of the new automotive age that is beginning for you.

This is where tomorrow starts—at your Ford Dealer's.

This is when your tomorrow starts—October 3rd.

Come in and see us for the Big New Kind of Ford!

MISS ROBERTA LEE BERMOND IS BRIDE OF FREDERICK SHEPARD

In a small but impressive ceremony Sunday afternoon at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Miss Roberta Lee Bermond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Bermond, Sr., became the bride of Mr. Donald Frederick Shepard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sheppard, Windsor, Conn. The Reverend John Robinson officiated at the double ring rites.

Preceding the ceremony, Professor Hammersbach played Gounod's "Ave Maria," the traditional wedding march, and soft organ music during the ceremony.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was radiant in an afternoon length gown of blue lace worn over matching Duchess satin. Made on simple lines, the dress featured a soft, rounded neckline with a flat bow at the back and sleeves. She wore a tulle and iridescent, which held a short veil of blue illusion. She carried a cascading arrangement of feathered white carnations centered with a single white orchid.

Miss Margaret Bermond was her sister's only attendant. Her gown, made on similar lines as that of the bride, was of seafoam green lace. She wore a tulle hat of matching lace and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. James Hobbs of New Orleans, a brother of the bride, served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Balentine St. White flowers and greenery decorated the reception rooms.

Mrs. Bermond chose for her daughter's wedding a French blue model worn with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom and surrounded by white carnations and fern, was served in the dining room.

For her wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a princess dress of sand wool jersey, an avocado green corduroy duster, brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

In two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Shepard will be at home at 32 Prospect St., Windsor, Conn. Mrs. Shepard is a graduate of St. Joseph's academy and until her marriage was employed by W. A. McDonald & Sons.

Mr. Shepard received his education in Windsor schools, had entered college and was called to military service in the Air Force. He recently received his discharge.

New Hours For Health Office

Legion Aux. News Paul Delcuze

Services Held Wednesday

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 held a special meeting Wednesday night Sept. 19 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Romanoff.

A film on volunteer service at VA Hospitals was shown and narrated by Carl Frielund, from the Gulfport division of the veterans administration. Mr. Frielund stated "there are 174 V. A. Hospitals in the United States. The Gulfport division has 925 bed capacity and at present have 885 patients from Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida. There are 10,000 volunteers in the V. A. Hospitals from several organizations." He also said "fifty percent of the patients in hospitals now are mental health patients."

Some of the work done by volunteer workers include letter writing, sewing, mending and wheeling patients to activities in the hospitals. A volunteer may only be able to work one hour a week in the hospitals, but that is a big help. Volunteer workers are needed at all times in the V. A. Centers.

The V. A. V. S. course is to be held at Gulfport October 24 from 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. This course is given to prospective volunteer workers to familiarize the volunteers with the type of work that is done at the hospitals by the volunteers.

Anyone wishing to take part in the volunteer service at Gulfport should contact Mrs. Gordon Romanoff.

Russell Elliott, Commander of the American Legion, was guest speaker at the meeting. The Harvest Ball, given each year by the American Legion Auxiliary, is to be held October 20 at the Top Hat in Waveland. Plans are being made to have an orchestra for the Harvest Ball.

This activity is held each year to benefit the rehabilitation program for hospitalized veterans and their families. This includes the Gift Shop held at the V. A. Centers.

Membership of the American Legion Auxiliary must be turned in by November 8. The membership quota for Unit 139 is 174 members. Every effort is being made by the Auxiliary to reach their quota by that date. Special awards are given the unit reaching their quota first.

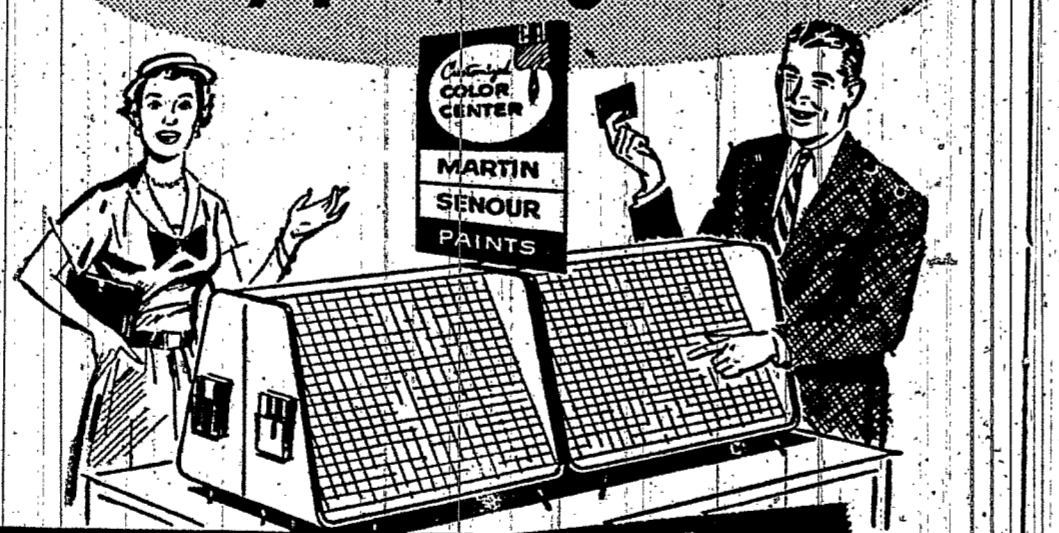

District Nine Conference will be held on Oct. 5, 1956 at 10:00 a.m. at the American Legion Home in Hattiesburg. All members wishing to go contact Mrs. Gordon Romanoff at 735-W.

TECHNICAL FOR MRS. KOHLER

Mrs. E. C. Samuel entertained at a buffet luncheon in honor of Mrs. Max Kohler, who will leave the latter part of the month for a tour of Europe.

An afternoon of cards followed the luncheon. Those present other than the honoree were Mesdames C. D. Blair, C. Newton, and C. B. Penrose.
